

ENSURING SUCCESS THROUGH EACH PHASE OF RECRUITING EVENTS

Recruiting events – whether they be specific to your major or a Career Fair – are opportunities for you to tell your story. Think of these in-person and virtual events as a chance to get your foot in the door with industry professionals. Curiosity and confidence are strong elements to demonstrate in these conversations.

Access the Presentation

Click here to view the slideshow and access the video on conducting career conversations.

Creating an effective verbal message to introduce yourself to an employer or recruiter is an important part of your career progression. Craft a compelling message, then practice, practice, practice. It's ok if it feels awkward at first. It will start to flow more easily with practice.

References Used

- Are You Career Fair Ready? | #CareerTok
- Networking: Elevator Pitch | Engineering Career Services Ohio State
- 4 Tips to Help You Crush Your Next Career Fair | #CareerTok
- Designing Your Career: The Networking Reframe | Stanford Life Design Lab
- The Right Way to Follow Up After a Career Fair | the muse

Additional Resources to Consider

LinkedIn Job Search Checklist

Learn how to set up your profile to attract employers, grow your professional skills and connect with new opportunities.

3 Steps to a Meaningful Career Conversation

Learn important aspects of informational interviews.

How to Navigate Networking Events and Leave a Lasting Impression

Listen to a behavior investigator share practical tips on how to work a room and make a great, positive first impression with people.

Networking Tips: How to Make a Connection

Networking isn't just about meeting new people. Knowing how to network can strengthen your business connections and might even lead to a job referral.

BUSINESS CAREER SERVICES

Stop by our CAREER CLOSET to obtain clothing for job hunting, free of charge. The clothing ranges from business casual to business professional attire.

Don't go through your career adventure alone, schedule a time to MEET WITH YOUR DEDICATED CAREER COACH. We are here for you from career exploration to salary negotiation.